state of trade in all parts of the East, would not have been advisable to announce a reduction in rates; but it ought to have been apparent to the directors of these companies that any increase would b regarded with great disfavour by mer-chante in India, China, and Japan, Al the present time, when most people are trying to roduce their expenditure, and oconomy is the order of the day, it is certainly vexatious to have the telegraph rates raised The effect of the changes innugurated on the 1st ultimo was, it appears, to raise the rates per word to and from China from 6s, to 12s

6d., and to and from Japan from 7s, to 17s: 9d. Not only have the changes made roused great opposition out here, but they have been much discussed, and in no favourable spirit, in England. At the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce on Thursday, the speakers expressed themselves both dissatisfied and disappointed with the new rules and arrangements, which were, denounced as not only vexations but absurd. Th Times, in writing on the subject, says :-"Any direct or indirect attempt to suppress the code system should certainly be resisted with all the influence the mercantile community can bring to bear. What over may be the meaning of a number of letters or figures does not concern the company in the slightest degree. They charge so much for certain signs, and there their business with these signs ends." The Telegraph Companies will act wisely, we think, in paying heed to the hostile comments passed upon the changes they have effected in their system. The increased tariff may pay them | their native country in order to lend a quiet life better, and they doubtless have some good reasons for raising the rates, but they must bear in mind that by doing so they invite purpose, fell, however, victims to the want of prosition. After having decided poon the above proposed alterations, the Committee thought it would be well to abtain the views of the Government upon the subject, and accordingly a copy of the above list was forwarded. A private corresposidence of very considerable length ensued. the result of which the Committee may state to be shortly :- lst. That the Government is unwilling to act apon any suggestions with respect to a revision of the present schedule which would result in any decrease of the total amount of revenue raise I by the Stamp Act. 2nd The Collector of Stamp Revenue has made an estimate of the olivinges that would result to the revenue if the proposed alterations were carried out, and from this it appears that there would be a total decrease of $21,300, and n Lotal increase of $7,500, or say a net annual less to the revenue of $13,800. 3rd. The tax raised from Bill of Exchange forms 40 per cent, and that from Bank note circulation 20 per cent., of the entire annual Stamp Revenue ; the question consequently narrows itself down to the alterations proposed in these two items or placing the estimated increase of $7,500 against the $16,400 to be raised from the new scheme in respect to Bank note circulation, and the whole question is parrowed down to that of Bills of Exchange only. In determining how far the new sliding sould for this tax proposes by the Committee is possible it will be necessary however, to find any estimate of the probable revenue to be derived, upon reliable statistics, but se all impressed stamps are sold in what may be termed in blank, there is at present no means of arriving at the exact number and proportion of bills drawn for the various amounts. So far as advesive stamps are concerned the records of the stamp office abow that four times as many stumps are sold of the value of $1.00 as of those of $1.50, thus showing that by fur the largest number of bills stamped in this manner are of the smaller amounts, but whether the amount of the larger bills, under an ad valorem

With respect to the first, viz: -Bank Note Circulation: the Committee have considered that as the non-issuing Banks in the Octony derive great benefit from the local note circulation, they should accordingly pay for the advantage and this has secordingly been introduced as the basis of the new solveme. Advices just received from Egypt leave no room for doubt that the Khadive meditated the actual annexation of a portion of the territories of the Sultan of Zinzibar. His Bighness appears to have laboured under the impression that the anti-slavery party were favourable to his advance into the regions of equatorial Africa, whereas I understand that the contrary is the case. So long as slavery exists in Egypt, they have no confidence in the Khedive adopting an anti-slavery policy in the interior. Yielding to the remonstrances of the British Government, he has recalled his forces from the Sultan of Zunzibar's territory. As for his Abyasinian raid, he is allowed to send a fresh force to exact satisfaction for his late crusbing defeat—that is to save his prestige. APRICAN EXPLORATION.
